Whether you are already using EDI or e-Commerce transactions in your business or you are just starting to explore the potential benefits, we can help.

EDI TESTING

In today's marketplace, there's a lot of emphasis on electronic business-to-business transactions making Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) a major force that drives multi-billion dollar industries each year. As more businesses adopt e-Commerce strategies, these technologies will continue to grow. This makes quality an increasing factor in business continuity, especially with Trading Partners and Web Data Integration. We can help you:

- Test earlier, smarter, and faster – Increase quality of trading partner data and start receiving clean EDI data now by using SQA Solution's experienced EDI testing resources throughout your business integration process.

- Find critical issues earlier – Accelerate your Time-to-Market by preventing delays that are caused by issues normally found late in the cycle.

- Pay only for what you need – Minimize testing costs leveraging SQA Solution's On-Demand delivery model.

TRADING PARTNER TESTING SERVICES

- Implementing a robust testing process is a smart way to establish a successful trading relationship with your EDI partners, and SQA Solution can help you achieve successful data exchange. We rigorously validate that all agreed data exchange points successfully exchange data.

- Leveraging On-Demand testing strategies, such as SQA Solution, to support your Trading Partner testing is a smart way to go. It's not always cost-effective for companies to maintain QA resources that are capable of sufficiently managing each testing cycle, especially when the validation process is only performed when new documents or Trading Partners are brought online.

WEB DATA INTEGRATION TESTING SERVICES

- With SQA Solution's web integration services, we can help you integrate data collected in web-based applications with your accounting or ERP systems or with your Data Warehouses. This streamlines processes, reducing and eliminating manual data entry.

SQA Solution's EDI Testers are experienced with EDI testing process and have successfully managed and validated hundreds of trading partners. Our EDI testing resources and knowledge can be leveraged to manage your company's EDI testing processes. Subsequently, you can focus on your business and avoid the pitfalls of trying to take a learn-as-you-go approach to achieve success with valuable trading partner relationships. Our testers are experts, skilled in solving business challenges relating to:
